

MAGPPIE · L&D NEW JOINER ORIENTATION SERIES

Dress Code Policy

How we present ourselves — an extension of the same elegance and comfort we promise every client.

Official HR policy. Applies to every team member, every working day.

01 OUR PHILOSOPHY

Why the dress code matters at MAGPPIE

At MAGPPIE, every interaction is a reflection of who we are — a luxury brand built on precision, care, and comfort. Our dress code isn't about restricting who you are; it's simply an extension of the same elegance and comfort we promise every client, worn by the people who bring it to life.

Culture isn't just what we say — it's what we choose to wear, every single day.

- Builds trust with every client interaction
- Reflects your own professionalism and confidence
- Protects the reputation you and MAGPPIE share

02 GENERAL PRINCIPLES

For every team member

- Professional and presentable Attire should be professional and presentable at all times.
- Neat and modest Dress in a manner that is neat, modest, and appropriate for a professional workplace.
- Well-fitted and ironed Clean, well-fitted attire that looks put together.
- Respectful and comfortable Maintains a respectful, comfortable environment for all colleagues.

When in doubt: choose the more professional, understated option.

03 GUIDELINES FOR MEN

Everyday attire & client meetings

Everyday attire

- Collared shirts, long or short sleeved, tucked into trousers, linen pants or chinos
- Smart casuals — polo T-shirts with smart jeans, for non-client-dealing members only
- Clean, well-fitted clothing that looks put together
- Closed shoes or neat sneakers
- Blazers as appropriate

Client meetings

For the Sales team and client-facing roles

- Collared shirts in solid colours or subtle textures, tucked in. Avoid loud prints and big checks
- Formal trousers, linen pants or well-fitted chinos in neutral tones — navy, charcoal, beige, black
- Leather shoes or loafers, well maintained, with a matching belt
- Trimmed hair and beard, minimal accessories

Neat hair and well-maintained facial hair — attention to detail makes all the difference.

04 GUIDELINES FOR WOMEN

Everyday attire & client meetings

Everyday attire

- Formal tops, shirts, tunics or formal dresses
- Ethnic wear is warmly welcomed — saris, salwar kameez and similar styles are a beautiful part of our workplace

Client meetings

For the Sales team and client-facing roles

- Formal shirts, kurtas with trousers, or well-fitted formal dresses longer than knee length, in sober colours
- Saree or salwar-kameez as an optional traditional-wear choice
- Blazers as appropriate
- Closed-toe flats or heels — practical for walking or active sites
- Minimal jewellery and makeup, hair neatly tied back

Neat and well-maintained hair, with minimal or no makeup and accessories, as per personal choice, and comfortable footwear.

05 GROOMING STANDARDS

Presenting yourself with polish

- Hair Neat, well-maintained hair, styled appropriately for a professional setting.
- Nails Trimmed, clean nails. If nail polish is worn, keep it neat and chip-free.
- Personal hygiene Maintain good personal hygiene, including managing body odour through daily hygiene and deodorant use.
- Fragrance and breath Keep breath fresh, use mild fragrances, avoid overpowering perfumes or deodorants.

Grooming reflects professionalism. Kept simple and gender-neutral, it protects the dignity of our brand and of everyone who represents it.

06 QUICK REFERENCE

Do's and Don'ts

DO	DON'T
Clean, well-fitted, ironed clothing	Excessively short or cropped clothing, ripped jeans
Collared shirts, formal tops or professional dresses	Garments with deep necklines, off-shoulders
Ethnic wear — sarees, salwar kameez, co-ord sets	Overly casual, unkempt or wrinkled attire
Business formal for client meetings	Polo T-shirts and jeans for client-facing roles
Solid colours or subtle patterns	Loud prints, oversized graphics, big visible logos
Polished, role-appropriate footwear	Bulky, overly casual or distracting footwear
Neat hair and well-maintained grooming	Casual or lounge attire on video calls while working remotely

What's expected, and what happens if something's off

- This dress code applies to every team member, every working day. Adherence reflects your professionalism and your respect for colleagues and clients, and it upholds the image our guests trust MAGPPIE for.
- Failure to adhere may result in corrective action — so if you're ever unsure what's appropriate, ask before you dress, not after.
- In a grey area, discuss with your manager or HR. We'd always rather clarify upfront than correct after the fact.

Stage 1 — Verbal feedback. If something doesn't align with our guidelines, HR will offer a quick, private conversation to help you course-correct. It's a simple, respectful heads-up, not a formal mark against you.

Stage 2 — Written feedback. If the same concern comes up again, HR will share written feedback outlining the guideline and next steps. This may include a brief request to go home, change, and return — simply so you can meet clients at your best, never as a penalty.

This process exists to protect the trust our clients place in MAGPPIE, not to penalise anyone. Our goal is always to guide with care, so every team member feels confident representing our brand.

Before you head out

- ☐ Is my outfit clean and fitted?
- ☐ Is it appropriate for my role today?
- ☐ Am I representing MAGPPIE confidently?
