

Module 3

Awards, Trust & Social Proof

The KBIS 2026 award, the celebrity client list (used sparingly), and the trust-without-a-local-showroom answer.

Awards, Trust & Social Proof

AWARDS (VERBATIM — USE EARLY IN CONVERSATION)

Magppie was recently honoured at KBIS 2026 in Orlando, USA — the world's largest Kitchen & Bath Industry Show. We won the Most Unexpected Innovation award, placing alongside global leaders like Caesarstone and LG. This was presented by our Director of US Operations, Kishor Rico, on February 17, 2026.

The correct award name is "Most Unexpected Innovation" — this supersedes the earlier "Most Innovative Kitchen Brand" phrasing seen in older material.

Celebrity & high-profile trust

Trusted by Mukesh Ambani and Anant Ambani (Reliance), M.S. Dhoni and Harbhajan Singh (cricket), Ranbir Kapoor, Shilpa Shetty, Chiranjeevi, and Akhil Akkineni (film), and business leaders like Peyush Bansal (Lenskart) and Rizwan Sajan (Danube Group).

RULE

Use 2–3 names max per conversation. Do not read the entire list — the source itself forbids it.

Trust without a local showroom

Trust is built not just through showrooms, but through systems, accountability, and proven performance: central manufacturing with uniform quality standards, in-house trained installation teams, written commitments, and pan-India guarantees and AMS support. Always offer one of: a sample delivery to their home, a video call with an expert, or a visit to an existing customer installation nearby.

[CONFIRM YEAR] + [VERIFY: Red Dot] + [CONFIRM AWARD NAME]

Company-age claims here inherit the [CONFIRM YEAR] conflict (2016 vs 2018 first stone kitchen). The full Notion Brand Story (received 2026-07-15) asserts a Red Dot international design award in 2026 — still absent from the AI Bot doc, so do not state it as confirmed fact. The Brand Story also names the KBIS award "World's Most Innovative Kitchen Brand", while the AI Bot doc's correction says "Most Unexpected Innovation" supersedes exactly that phrasing — until leadership reconciles the two, use "Most Unexpected Innovation" (the newer correction) with customers. The quiz tests neither.

PART 2 · VIDEO NARRATION SCRIPT (ENGLISH)

The narration for this module's video — the same voiceover you hear on the module page.

Trust is won in the first two minutes. Here's the proof you carry into every conversation.

Magppie was honoured at KBIS twenty-twenty-six in Orlando — the world's largest Kitchen and Bath Industry Show. We won the Most Unexpected Innovation award, placing alongside global leaders like Caesarstone and LG.

One correction worth remembering: the award is Most Unexpected Innovation — not 'Most Innovative Kitchen Brand'. Precision builds credibility.

Our kitchens are trusted by the Ambanis, M.S. Dhoni, Ranbir Kapoor, Shilpa Shetty, and business leaders like Peyush Bansal of Lenskart. But here's the rule: use two or three names, maximum. Never read the whole list.

When there's no showroom nearby, trust comes from systems: central manufacturing with uniform standards, in-house installation teams, written commitments, and pan-India guarantees. Then always offer one of three things — a sample to their home, a video call with an expert, or a visit to a customer installation near them.
